

Fri, Apr 3, 2009 at 7:41 AM

Visitation/Information on our son Julian Anthony

Julia,

Because we are the mother and father of Julian Anthony, we have an obligation and responsibility to ensure our son enjoys a happy, healthy, and productive future. This means we owe it to our son, as his parents, to find a way that both of us can be in his life. Remember there is no one who will ever love our son as much as we do, as there is no bond nor love stronger than the one a mother and father has for their child.

One day our son will look back on everything that has transpired. Let's not make the past a negative experience for Julian Anthony. Our son will look back and see his father, i.e. me, did everything possible to be in his life. What will he look back and see that his mother did? How do you want him to view you, his mother, when he reads and listens to my repeated requests to participate in his life? How do you want him to view you?

There's nothing we can do to change the past BUT we can change the present and future. Julia I have no clue what is going on in your head. Although, I do know the current path you are taking will result in great heartache for our son. When Julian Anthony finds out that you intentionally tried to cut me and his grandparents out of his life for NO reason, how will he feel towards you? Do you actually think he'll be grateful? Let's fix things so it won't even be an issue?

We have an opportunity, for our son, to correct the situation. He needs us to work together towards his healthy development. You may think Julian Anthony doesn't deserve to enjoy love from me and his grandparents, BUT I wholeheartedly disagree. I believe our son needs me in his life just as much as I need him in mine. Julia we're talking about our child. He needs both of our love. If you step outside of Jon's shadow for a moment, then you'd realize and remember how much I love our son.

Don't make our son suffer the heartache of you keeping him and I apart. Our son has rights, his greatest right is to have both of us in his life. You've kept him from me for well over two years, so please end this nightmare for our son. Don't deny our son out of spite and hate towards me. He will always be OUR child. When you lean down to hug him, kiss him, and to tell him you love him remember I love him too. And when you look at him remember you're looking at me, as he'll always be a part of me.

We can't run away or hide from our responsibility to our son. Julian Anthony needs and deserves to have both of us in his life. I'll never stop loving or longing to participate in his life. I LOVE OUR SON!!!!

Call me

Missing our son,
James